SASHA STEVENSON

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR: SECTION27

Sasha Stevenson is a human rights lawyer and the Executive Director of SECTION27, a public interest law organisation in Johannesburg.

She holds bachelors, honours and law degrees from Rhodes University and an LLM from the University of Cambridge.

She has been working for over a decade to secure systems change that realises health and food rights, including through representing the families of mental health care users who died after their disastrous deinstitutionalisation from Life Esidimeni, securing the re-start of the programme that feeds 9,6 million children at school every day after COVID-19, and work on migrant health, access to abortion and access to medicine, among others.
